ALEX CALVER

Senior Associate

WilmerHale

alex.calver@wilmerhale.com

Alex Calver's practice focuses on intellectual property litigation, specifically patents, in the telecoms, technology and life sciences sectors. Alex is experienced in advising some of the world's leading innovators on pan-European and worldwide litigation strategy and policy. He has litigated a broad range of technologies in numerous cases in the UK and European Courts. Alex has a particular specialty in dealing with complex standard essential patent (SEP) / FRAND cases that often involve competition/antitrust aspects, crafting case methodologies to underpin FRAND determinations.

Alex was named as "a clear star of the future and a pleasure with whom to work" by the 2023 Legal 500 directory. He is a qualified Solicitor-Advocate, he is on the Patent Committee of the IP Federation, and is a member of AIPPI. This is his second year at the Fordham IP Conference and is thrilled to be a 'young(er) voice' at the event.
