Marie Sellier has a long expertise in legal and regulatory topics. In her current position, particularly in the field of French and EU legislation, she made substantial contributions to negotiations surrounding important EU regulations like the Artificial Intelligence Act, Media Freedom Act, Digital Services Act, Digital Markets Act, and the Copyright Directive. Prior to her present role, Marie Sellier was Director Corporate Public Affairs and Intellectual Property from 2010 to 2015. During that time, she played a key role in the area of content protection.

Marie Sellier has an Executive MBA from TRIUM (an alliance between New York University, London School of Economics, and HEC). She holds a master's in international business law from ESSEC and is a graduate of the Institut d'Etudes Politiques de Paris.

In addition to her corporate role, Marie Sellier has been a Member of the Franco-German Cultural High Council since 2022. In this role, she contributes to cultural diplomacy and promotion of Franco-German exchanges through arts and culture and is dedicated to strengthening bilateral relationships but also cultural diversity.
